Washington-More diplomatic details are gradually leaking out regarding the sudden British dumping of the Greek dilemma into Uncle Sam's lap. For several months there had been a bit-

NOTE-Some people wonder how the British can get away with the argument that it is too expensive for them to keep 10,000 troops in Greece when they can afford to keep 100,000 troops in Palestine. The answer is that they can't. Palestine also will be dumped shortly. Tragedy is that Palestine wasn't turned over to the United Nations long ago before Jewish passions had reached such a frenzy that a solution by the United Nations, the United States or anyone else will be difficult.

Paul Porter, President Truman's economic expediter for Greece, speaks with a delightful Kentucky drawl. Foreign languages are not his forte. In Greece, however, he wanted to learn enough language to be polite, and the first phrase he tackled was "thank you" which in Greek is "E Fhristo".

The pronunciation proved difficult. Finally the Greek interpreter suggested:
